In 1993, the country's groundwater, the source of drinking water for 97% of the rural population and a significant share of the urban population, was contaminated with arsenic. However, in 2004, 98% of the population already has access to an improved water source, a very high level for a low-income country. This has been achieved through the construction of hand pumps with the support of ...

Enhancing rural development and livelihoods. We work directly with over 700 000 farmers and some five million are in our supply chain. To help secure a long-term supply of high-quality raw materials for our foods and beverages, we need to understand where and how our ingredients are produced, support the farmers who supply us and drive rural development.
