On 9 August 1965, Singapore separated from Malaysia to become an independent and sovereign state. [1] The separation was the result of deep political and economic differences between the ruling parties of Singapore and Malaysia, [2] which created communal tensions that resulted in racial riots in July and September 1964. [3] At a press conference announcing the separation, then Singapore Prime ...

Singapore's earliest attempt to introduce compulsory conscription was in 1952. The endeavour was unsuccessful as it was vigorously resisted by Chinese middle school students and their parents, who did not see the need to support the British colonial government's military efforts. The National Service Ordinance (NSO), officially implemented in March 1954, triggered demonstrations by the ...
